Vol. LXXXIX No. 155

Seen & Heard Around MURRAY

We were thumbing through our large dictionary yesterday and came across a page in color which showed a number of poisonous plants. Listed among them was the Mayapple. We have eaten at least a thousand Mayapples or May Pops and now we find they are poison. It's a good thing we didn't know this when we were a kid, it might have killed us.

Going home yesterday and we saw this row of stakes extending down the road right in front of the house and we wondered what under the sun was going on. Surely they are not going to dig another trench across the front of the yard, we thought (they represent anyone who digs trenches for one reason or another).

We get out of the car and peer at the stakes and as usual we can't tell what all the numbers indicate. They seemed to get higher as we walked down the road and since every other utility has dug a trench across our yard but the sewer system, we deduced that this must be for a sewer line. We hit it right on the nose. John Trotter is having a survey made of a wide area in the southwest section of the city for the possible serving by the city. Of course a whale of a trunk line would have to be constructed to do it and probably a lift-station too.

Television has many faults, but it came through last night with a dilly "The Big Little World of Roman Vishniac."

This production was a marriage of art, ability, feeling, and sensitivity. It was interesting, informative, engaging, and completely satisfying.

We saw a happy man in Roman Vishniac, who was doing exactly what he wanted to do, study, photograph, contemplate, and view nature.

Speaking of all forms of life, Vishniac said "We are all brothers." Some forms are more complex than others, but all have that spark of life placed there by God.

Much of Vishniac's photography falls into the category of micro-photography and his pictures of microscopic animals are fantastic.

Benton Firm Wins Parkway Contract

FRANKFORT, Ky. (UPI) — The Quality Construction Company of Benton, Ky., has received a contract for construction work on the Jackson Purchase Parkway, the State Department of Highways announced Friday.

The company bid $295,000 for the work, which includes building toll plaza facilities at the Wingo and Benton interchanges of the parkway.

Other contracts awarded Friday went to the T.C. Young Construction Company of Williamsburg and the Elizabethtown Paving Company.

Young submitted the low bid of $119,142 for construction of a bridge across the north fork of the Nolin River on KY 222 in Lacle County, while Elizabethtown's offer of $86,576 was accepted for a group of bituminous surfacing projects in Lacle County.

Murrayans Are Named To Council By Governor Nunn

Gov. Louie B. Nunn addressed members of the new Kentucky Health Planning Council this week and praised new Federal health legislation to be in effect July 1. Two Murrayans have been named to this council, Captain Gaylord Forrest and Attorney Robert O. Miller.

The measure "does not dictate, it asks," he said. "It asks states and local communities to provide a comprehensive health plan based on needs at home."

"But Federal laws are not blank checks and the new act is certainly no exception," Gov. Nunn said. "For the benefits we can derive, the citizens of the state will work harder, plan longer, examine more closely and judge more carefully on matters of health than ever before."

Until now, Federal health funds have been granted in 16 categories to combat particular problems, such as heart disease, cancer or mental health. Now the states will be given lump-sum grants, with the state councils determining priorities.

Gov. Nunn's Kentucky Health Planning Council will advise a five-member Health Planning Commission. Together they will determine the disposition of all Federal health money. The council will consist of the Governor, State commissioners of health, mental health and finance, and the administrator of the Program Development Office.

Strawn W. Taylor will head a 14 member staff for the council. He has been director of research, statistics and planning for the State Health Department.

Captain Forrest, U.S.N. Retired, is Administrator of the Western Kentucky Mental Health - Mental Retardation Board, and Miller is Calloway County Attorney.

Three Wrecks Occur Friday; None Hurt

Three traffic accidents were investigated by the Murray Police Department on Friday, according to the reports filed by the investigating officers. No injuries were reported.

The first occurred at 10:30 p. m. at Olive and North 8th Streets as Major Prescott, Jr. of Murray Route Two, driving a mixer truck of Fitts Block Company, was making a left turn from Olive on to 8th. Larry Dale Blakely of Murray Route One, driving a 1968 Pontiac two door hardtop, was proceeding west on Olive Street when the vehicles collided, according to Patrolman J. D. Grogan and Sgt. Ed Knight.

Damage was reported to the right quarter panel of the Blakely car and no damage was reported to the mixer truck.

A truck and car collision occurred on Highway 121 in front of the Pure Oil Service Station at Five Points and was investigated by Patrolman Grogan and Sgt. Knight.

Vehicles involved were a 1967 Buick four door sedan owned by Gladys Wesson and driven by Ronald Wayne Wesson of New Concord, and a 1967 Ford pickup driven by Robert Wesley Harrison of Hardin Route One. Police said Harrison was attempting to enter the highway from the service station and collided with the Wesson truck traveling west on Highway 121. The accident occurred at 4:48 p. m.

The third collision occurred at 6:43 p. m. at the intersection of Sycamore and South 4th Streets and was investigated by Sgt. Knight.

Mary Ruth McCuiston of Murray Route Five, driving a 1967 Ford four door, was going east on Sycamore Street and hit the rear end of the 1963 Ford four door that was stopped at Sycamore and South 4th Street, according to the police.

The 1963 Ford was driven by W. P. Hurt of Murray Route Four, and it was damaged on the rear end. Damage to the McCuiston car was on the right front hood.

CAR FIRE

The Murray Rescue Squad was called Friday afternoon to extinguish a car that was on fire at a home on the Mason farm road west of Murray. The brush fire truck was dispatched but the fire was out on arrival.

Young People Are Invited To Attend Talks On Alcohol

The high school age young people of Murray and Calloway County will have an opportunity Sunday, June 30 and July 7 to hear Willard Ails, head pharmacist for the local hospital, who will discuss the topic, "The Effects of Ethel Alcohol on the Body."

The meetings will take place at the 7th and Poplar Street Church of Christ building beginning at 9:45 a.m. each Sunday. All young people of high school age are urged to attend.

Mr. Ails has lectured on this subject in University classes as well as to various adult groups. He will discuss "the sober truth about social drinking"; also the physical effects of ethel alcohol on the body and the detoxification process will be discussed along with a look at the drinking phases of alcoholism and the categories of treatment for the alcoholic.

Mr. Ails comments: "We recognize today in the field of medicine that alcoholism is a real disease and that the alcoholic is truly a sick person. One adult in 25 is an alcoholic according to national figures. This is the fact that alcoholism is the 4th largest public health problem in the United States begins to suggest the gravity of the situation caused by the consumption of alcohol."

Every young person is urged to attend.

While in high school he played both baseball and basketball but only took part in baseball since being in college. His best batting season in high school was his senior year, when he batted .374.

The past season for Murray State he had a batting average of .385, and is doing real well playing for the Twin-States League.

Reed is majoring in P. E. and had planned to go into teaching and coaching, until the Cardinals offered him a contract.

There are some 200 horse farms in the Bluegrass, centering around Lexington. Many of them are show places, open to the public.

Cong Burn Village, Kill 88 Civilians

SAIGON (UPI) — Viet Cong terrorists attacked a model anti-Communist village today and killed 88 civilians, wounded 103 others and burned 50 houses to fulfill a threat made two months ago.

The Communists swept through the picturesque fishing village of Son Tra to carry out what one U.S. spokesman called "one of the worst atrocities incidents of the war."

The village was heavily defended but few of the troops nearby knew what happened until after the raid. Four of the 40 Viet Cong were killed.

The attack left 3,000 persons homeless — in the village, declassified as a U.S. pacification program "showplace."

"They came through our perimeter in two places," said Pfc. Sam Thanh, village chief. "They got on line and swept through the streets. They began to throw satchel charges, firing and lighting our homes. Everyone was trying to get into the holes they dug in their homes."

The Viet Cong had warned the village last April they would destroy the place if the people kept cooperating with the Americans.

UPI correspondent Raymond Wilkinson said 85 per cent of the homes were destroyed — nearly all of them built by U.S. aid money.

"I looked down from the helicopter and saw hundreds of small fires," said Pfc. Sam Rader of Wallis, Tex. "I didn't know what it was. We didn't know what was happening."

First Lt. Floyd McLean of Lawton, Okla., said when his unit got to the village "everybody was screaming and running around."

"The stench of burned flesh was overpowering," he said.

Bui Van Nghia, a Vietnamese popular force soldier, saw the Viet Cong drag his sister and her daughter out of their house and shoot them to death.

He showed a bullet hole in his shirt pocket.

"I'm very lucky," he said. "My sister not."

Far to the south, outside Saigon, U.S. infantrymen on patrol trapped 150 Communist troops in the jungle and killed at least 27 of them.

Woman Killed On Way To Funeral Here

Mrs. Ruby Odelle Beach, Mich., was killed early Friday morning in a three-car accident on Highway 45 between Metropolis and Brookport.

The woman was enroute to Hardin to attend the funeral of her brother, Gerald Trimble, which was held on Friday.

Mrs. Beach's daughter, Mrs. Margaret Doyle Robinson, 37, of Dearborn Heights, Mich., and James Robert Granneman, 45, of Paducah were reported injured. Mrs. Robinson was listed in critical condition at Western Baptist Hospital, Paducah, late Friday, while Granneman was listed satisfactory condition at Fort Massac Hospital in Metropolis.

Police said the vehicle driven by Mrs. Beach was apparently turning around in a driveway on Highway 45 three miles north of Brookport when it was struck in the right front end by a southbound car driven by Granneman. A third car driven by Thomas M. Terry of Metropolis, then sideswiped the Beach vehicle, but Terry was not injured.

The Beach and Granneman cars were demolished, police reported.

Reports are that Mrs. Beach and her daughter had stopped at the home of Mrs. Beach's sister, Mrs. Bob Norwood of Metropolis.

Large Number Are On MSU Semester Honor Roll

Representing more than 10 per cent of the student body, a record 899 students have been listed on the Honor Roll for the spring semester at Murray State University, Registrar Wilson Gantt has announced.

The figure topped the old mark of 817 which was established at this time a year ago. However, the percentage of the student body represented is about the same, Mr. Gantt said.

Of the total, 72 students made all A's during the spring term. The Honor Roll at Murray State is the equivalent of what most other colleges call the Dean's list. However, requirements for the listing vary from institution to institution.

At Murray a student must make a 3.3 grade point average (slightly better than a 'B'); based on a system in which each semester hour of 'A' earns four points, each hour of 'B' three points, and so on.

The total number of points earned is divided by the total number of semester hours of course work attempted to determine the overall grade point average.

The students from Calloway County who earned this honor are as follows:

Sheila Acree, William Adams, Joe Albritten, Linda Allen, Brenda Anderson, Mary Anderson, Vernon Anderson, Wilma Averett, Nancy Baker, Jerome Barber, Jane Barnett, Joseph Barnett, Kathryn Barnhill, Jeanne Bartholomew, Tommy Barton, John Beaton, Daniel Becker, Alireza Behbahani, Marion Belote, Alice Berry, Thomas Berry, John B. First Night Of Theatre Is Rewarding

By JOHN COLE

Perfect weather, a lighthearted play and a responsive gathering of about 200 playgoers made opening night at the Kenlake Amphitheatre a most enjoyable experience for all who were there.

The occasion was the presentation of "You Can't Take It With You" by George S. Kaufman and Moss Hart under the very able direction of Robert Johnson and Fred Coggins. The 18 members of the Murray State University summer theatre group turned in a top-flight opening night performance that showed the skill of their directors and the talent and dedication of the entire cast. "You Can't Take It With You" is a fast moving, happy go lucky three act play that when performed as it was opening night, carries you through the whole performance without a dull moment. There were many high points in individual portrayals, the polished professional work of Gene Coggins breathes vibrant life into Penelope Sycamore, a solid performance by Gary Bell gives good old Martin Vanerio a truly believable character. Spiritually is the feeling one gets of the performance of Ada Sue Hutson as she brings Alice alive on stage, and one can't help responding to the flamboyant interpretation of the Russian Ballet instructor Boris Kolenkhov as played by Bobby Dodd.

Without a doubt this is one of the most pleasant ways to spend an evening you'll find all summer long. Performances each Friday and Saturday through July, curtain time is 8:30.

Old Gent Needs Bit of Kindness

By Abigail Van Buren

—DEAR ABBY: We are a couple with four school-age children. Our problem is an old retired gentleman, who lives next door. He just won't leave us alone.

When the boys want to work out in the yard with their father, this old man comes out and talks to them. If they're planting flowers, he is right there, telling them how to do it. If I happen to be outside sitting with friends, he comes out and joins us.

My daughters cannot even sit themselves without this old man coming out to sit with them.

Abby, I hate to seem mean, but who needs an old man telling you around and inviting himself over every time you go outside?

My husband doesn't have the nerve to say anything to him, but if you tell me I should do it, I will.

DEAR PESTERED: The poor old gentleman is lonely, and he could also be getting a bit childish in his declining years, so be kind to him. Tell him, gently, that you and your family need a little more privacy. He may forget from time to time, but be patient, and remind him. One day, you, too, may be old and lonely.

DEAR ABBY: My husband is in the army and we are stationed 1,800 miles from home. My mother has offered to send the money for me to fly home several times as she wants to see me and her new grandchild. He says he does not want me going home unless he can go with me.

Now my mother is going into the hospital for major surgery and she wants me home to be with her for a long time. My husband is up in arms and won't allow it. (We used up our leave last Christmas, and he can't go with me, so that's that.)

I think my husband is selfish and unreasonable. I am just about ready to go anyway, but I hate to do it. What is your advice?

DEAR UNDECIDED: I think your husband is not only selfish and unreasonable, but he's also immature, hysterical and short-sighted, and sadly insecure. If you can't make him realize that he is wrong in forbidding you to go to your mother in her hour of need, ask him to talk to an impartial party. The chaplain where he is stationed would be my Number One suggestion.

P.S. Don't go without your husband's blessings, unless you decide you don't want to come back.

DEAR ABBY: I'd like to add my two cents' worth about tipping: When I go to a hotel, for example, and see a "bellboy," who is a good 20 years older than I am, I feel like a heel for letting him carry my luggage. Then when I have to tip him a buck for doing a job that I am more physically fit to do than he is, I feel like a schnook. So what's the answer?

HEEL AND SCHNOOK: You'd feel like a bigger "heel" carrying your own luggage. Furthermore, don't judge anyone's physical fitness by his age. Most of those "old bellboys" are probably in better shape than you are.

CONFIDENTIAL TO RAMELDA: It's the same old story, you can wear out a mother, a nurse, neglect her, impose upon her and hurt her, and win her back with only four words, "Mom, I love you."

Everybody has a problem. What's yours? For a personal reply write to Abby, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Cal., 90069 and enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

AMERICAN LEAGUEPITCHERS ARE LOADED FOR NL

BOSTON (AP) — The American League "firing squad," which will be charged with cutting down National League batters in the July 9 All-Star game, is knee-deep in heavy artillery.

For openers, the seven-man pitching crew named Thursday by Manager Dick Williams of the Boston Red Sox features the American League's top winner in Denny McLain, the top strikeout man in Sam McDowell and the master of the white-wash, Luis Tiant.

McLain is 13-2 as the big man on the Detroit pitching staff which has stood the American League on its ear in building a comfortable first place margin. McDowell has struck out 143 batters and Cleveland Indian teammate Tiant, who fashioned four back-to-back shutouts earlier in this season, has six blankies in an 11-5 mark.

Named along with that impressive trio were southpaw Tommy John of the Chicago White Sox and righthanders Mel Stottlemyre of the New York Yankees, Boston's Jose Santiago and John Odum of the Oakland Athletics.

They join the eight starters named earlier this week in voting by the players, managers and coaches.

Georgia Unhappy About U. of T.'s Artificial Turf

ATLANTA (AP) — At least one Southeastern Conference opponent is not overjoyed with the fact that the University of Tennessee plans to play on an artificial field during the coming football season.

"We have a contract and we'll be there but we had hoped that Tennessee would wait one year before putting in the new field," said Georgia coach Vince Dooley.

Tennessee meets Georgia in the season opener at Neyland Stadium in Knoxville in a game that will be nationally televised.

"Coach Doug Dickey called me and I told him that I hoped Tennessee would wait until 1969," said Dooley. "We feel that the new field will put us at a further disadvantage in the first game, especially because Tennessee will have an opportunity to practice on the surface and we don't."

by Robert Carpenter
Manager

There'll Be Some Changes Made

That's right, beginning July 1 your telephone service will be provided NOT by Southern Bell, but by a new company, South Central Bell Tel. Co.

Let me give you a few startling facts about our new company, whose formation really marks a milestone in corporation history:

- ✓ A bustling sprawling network of offices stretching from Kentucky to Louisiana, actually 5 states, but as local as your zip code.
- ✓ The largest single corporation ever newly formed.
- ✓ The Bell System's 24th operating company.
- ✓ The 7th largest in terms of telephones served.
- ✓ A brand new company — with 90 years of experience.

Born: — to better serve a region whose communications requirements are growing, both in size and complexity.

— To provide diverse, personalized and reliable service that matches this growth — To bring administration and management closer to the customer, thereby making his service more responsible.

We hope you will like our new company for we are determined in the future, as in the past, to provide the best possible telephone service at the most economical cost in keeping with the history of the Bell System.

Another bit of news:

CHAPTER 23

GREG CORWIN poured a drink for himself, tossed it down, using the opportunity to judge Unger's reaction. The man sat tense. Greg lowered the glass. "All right, I'll tell you. I killed Stern."

Unger flinched. His surprise was real and so, Greg sensed, was his consternation. "You? But why?"

"He figured I'd told Moyers he'd killed Sam Halls. And he had. He confessed."

"Confessed? Did he say why?"

"Someone paid him to. He had brand new gold coins in a money belt I found on him. Stern said someone promised him he'd run Anchor."

Unger dropped back in his chair. He took a deep breath and the mantle of his usual assurance fell on him again. "This is amazing, Greg."

"If it gets out I shot Stern before me or Moyers find the gent behind him, the Zanes and the rest will come gunning for me. So I need Bar Y help and that means Yates. But he needsn't know the rest of it. Can you persuade him that I want to throw in on his side?"

"I—maybe, maybe. But have you any idea who was behind Stern?"

"Idea, yes. But I need time to prove it."

Unger made a distressed gesture. "I'll see Bar Y."

"Tell him to forget the fight. It's over and done so far as I'm concerned. I'll help him if he'll help me."

"Don't worry, I'll not miss this chance to help. If Bart wants to see you, will you be in town?"

Greg thought quickly. "Just today but out of the ranch from tomorrow on. Maybe Bart had best see me then—that is if you can."

"Oh, I will get right out to Bar Y. And you can depend on me to keep my mouth shut."

"Just long enough I can find the Jasper behind Stern."

"Does Moyers know about all this?"

"Sure, except what I've been able to figure out."

"Who?"

"No names—because it's not proof. I aim to get that—maybe today—anyhow by the end of the week."

"I'm sure you will. But don't worry about anything."

Greg swept up the scattered cards and dealt another solitaire layout. There would be little else to do until Moyers returned. Greg played slowly. Once, as he thought of what he planned, he felt a cold shiver
